DRUG-CRAZED NEGRO AMUCK; 8 KILLED AND THE TWO MADMEN ARE LYNCHED

Harriston, Miss., Terrorized by Ruthless Slaying of Three Whites and Five Blacks; Militia Called Out to Prevent Further Outbreak

HARRISTON, Miss., Sept. 28.—Two drug-crazed mulatto boys, brothers, began a reign of murder here this morning that ended only after three white men, four negro men and a negro woman had been killed, several persons wounded and the two boys lynched. A serious clash between the races was prevented by the arrival, on a special train, of a company of national guardsmen from Natchez.

The trouble started at about 2 o'clock Sunday morning and continued intermittently until 10 o'clock this morning when Walter Jones, the oldest of the two boys, who started the firing, was lynched just after the soldiers arrived. His brother, Will Jones, had been shot and lynched by citizens earlier in the day. No more trouble is feared.

The Dead.
SHERIFF G. B. HAMMETT, of Jefferson county, white.
FORMER CONSTABLE FRANK KENNELLY, white.
CLAUDE FREEMAN, white, of Fayette, Miss.

TOM WEEKS, negro
JAMES THOMPSON, negro
THOMAS GRAYSON, negro
THOMAS WARREN, negro.
The five negroes were killed during a riotous shooting.

Those Lynched.
WALTER JONES, negro.
WILL JONES, negro.
Orin Gillis, former sheriff, white, may die.

E. R. Appleby, white, conductor of a Yazoo & Mississippi Valley railroad, dangerously wounded.
William McCall, white.
William Kennedy, white, son of Frank Kennedy.

W. G. Reid, white.
W. L. Evans, white.
The shooting was started by Walter Jones, aged 20, in the negro quarter where the negro woman and Thad Grayson were shot and killed. Walter then went home and shot his 15-year-old brother and together they proceeded through the main street of the little town firing at everyone in sight.

The two boys went to the home of former Constable Frank Kennelly, and Walter Jones killed him when he responded to their call to come out. Kennelly's son William saw his father fall and reached for a gun but before he could fire he received a bullet in one hand.

The Yazoo & Mississippi Valley depot near the Kennelly home and the two negroes walked in that direction. A train had arrived from Natchez just a few moments before, and Conductor E. R. Appleby was standing at the station talking to Flagman W. C. Bond. Without warning, the two negroes fired on them and both fell. Then the negroes fired their fire at Claude Freeman, who was waiting for a train. He was instantly killed. The negroes then fired into the train terrorizing the passengers.

Car Target for Madmen.
A sleeping car from Natchez is left here tonight at Harriston until the morning train from Memphis to New Orleans arrives. After the train from Natchez had departed this car was a target for the fire of the two negroes. While many windows were broken, no occupant of the car was hurt. The two negroes then made their way to the home of the madmen.

Assumes Life of Convict to Study Prison Reforms

AUBURN, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Thomas Osborne, chairman of the New York state prison reform committee, pointed to investigate and suggest prison reform legislation will begin self-imposed term in Auburn prison tomorrow. The consent of Superintendent of State Prison Riley and Warden Rattigan has been obtained. The main purpose is to determine the psychological effect of prison confinement upon a man. Mr. Osborne outlined his purpose today to the convicts and while concluding that the convicts are any short of mad in his experiment, he said his purpose was to study a convict.

I have the feeling that after I have lived through my food gone to my stomach, and at night and in the morning looked at the sunlight through those same iron bars that I have not and then can I feel the difference which will break down the barriers between me and the outside world.

I expect to begin serving my sentence this week at hard labor and am going to live like one of you to be a good, clean, fed and disciplined man.

Mr. Osborne was asked if he would be punished if he broke the rules and replied that he would be punished if he broke the rules.

CALL IS SENT OUT FOR ALL TO AID BILL

Both Houses of Congress Will Receive the Democratic Tariff Bill Today

ONE BRANCH MUST RECEDE

Cotton Futures Tax Section Only Point Yet to Be Disposed Of

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Both houses of congress will meet tomorrow with the prospect of an early completion of the Democratic tariff bill. Instructions have gone out to absent members of both houses to be on hand early in the week for the final stages of tariff revision.

Democratic leaders hope the long anticipated message of the white house that the president had signed "H. B. 8321, an act to reduce tariff duties and to provide revenue for the government" will be received by the two houses of congress before the present week is ended. The struggle in the conference committee, which has extended over two weeks and a half, practically are ended, except for the cotton futures tax question. Democratic managers fully expect to meet some stubborn opposition in both senate and house but they believe it will not delay materially final action on the tariff bill.

Tomorrow the conference report will go first to the full conference committee, the Republican members of which thus far have not yet been helped in its preparation. It then will be reported to the house by Chairman Underwood probably Monday afternoon. The present plan before action is demanded until Tuesday before action is demanded. The house will agree to the report, but recommend an amendment in the form of the so-called Smith-Lever cotton futures tax plan. The document then will go to the senate.

One Body, Most Heads
The senate will approve the conference report and either approve to the house amendment or demand a new conference. Somewhere in the negotiations the senate Democrats either will have to caucus and agree to accept the house cotton futures plan or else go counter to the expressed desire of President Wilson and bring about the defeat of the whole cotton futures tax plan for the present session of congress. The Republican members of the joint committee are expected to make some sharp comments on the work of the conference committee before the tariff debate finally ends. This Republican opposition coupled with the threatened fight Senator Pomeroy, Democrat, will make because his amendment taxing brands used to fortify sweet wines was dropped out of the conference, may delay the senate's final approval of the bill for two or three days.

Currency reform legislation is expected to take a secondary position this week.

A final revision of figures covering the estimates of the revenues to be derived from the new tariff law was made today by the treasury expert, Senator Simmons, chairman of the conference, said tonight the revenues for the fiscal year of 1914 would carry a surplus of $18,000,000 and for the fiscal year of 1915 a surplus of $18,000,000. The increase will be due in part to the fact that for 1914 the income tax will be collected only for five-sixths of a year.

A novel feature of the race was that the machines were lined up in a row and started by flag in the same manner that a horse race is started. The planes were sent away first. Six of the seven machines rose without a moment's delay as the starter's flag dropped, while the seventh was only a scant second behind them.

Three of the planes abandoned the race and most of the others were compelled to land once or twice. The winner was M. Root whose monoplane negotiated the 150-kilometer in 1:07:18. The best time for a biplane was 1:51:51 made by Rene Guion.

An altitude contest brought forth some sensational flying. M. Gilbert ascended 19,020 feet less than 60 feet below the record.

Representatives of the Aero Club of England and France met here today and decided to hold an annual race between London and Paris beginning in 1915.

NANKING, China, Sept. 28.—Gen. Chang Hsun, the commander of the Chinese troops at Nanking, accompanied by a bodyguard of 50 cavalry, went to the Japanese consulate this morning and apologized in accordance with the Japanese demands in connection with the killing of several Japanese and an insult offered to the Japanese flag. The consul expressed his satisfaction at the action of the Chinese commander.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon 500 of Gen. Chang Hsun's troops with the republican flag at their head marched to the Japanese consulate and presented arms, while the commander saluted the consul. The Japanese troops meantime stood at attention.

PEKIN, Sept. 28.—The Japanese legation emphatically declared today that an ultimatum had been sent by the Japanese government to China. The legation stated that the Chinese authorities at Hankow and Shanghai had complied fully with the Japanese demands.

A Shanghai dispatch of September 27 announced that the Japanese minister had presented China with an ultimatum allowing China three days to comply with Japanese demands in connection with the recent attacks on Japanese at Nanking. The ultimatum was a piece of paper, it was feared, would be Gen. Chang Hsun's refusal to offer an official apology.

A later dispatch from Peking declared that the Japanese warships, with marines aboard, were awaiting the time on the Yangtze river.

TOKIO, Sept. 28.—An apology of Gen. Chang Hsun to the Japanese consulate at Nanking has cleared the air, according to the Yusei officials here, and leaves the danger of complications for the present.

Man's Nose Is Nearly Cut Off by Striker?

HOUGHTON, Mich., Sept. 28.—Samuel Carson, a former saloon keeper, was found in an alleyway tonight beaten into unconsciousness and with his nose cut nearly off. He will be discharged for life if he recovers. He formerly had acted as a deputy sheriff and it is thought the assault was due to strikers in the copper mine strike zone.

A parade of miners took place today, 1,500 of the strikers including 500 women marching to a skating rink where addresses were made by members of the Western Federation of Miners. As a rule quite prevailed throughout the strike zone today.

SOCIALIST TRIALS WILL SWAMP SEATTLE COURTS

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 28.—Announcements were made today at meetings of Socialists that injunctions forbidding street speaking issued by Superior Judge John E. Humphries would be set aside in a campaign of open defiance. The Socialists declared they mean to inaugurate tomorrow.

Last night the police took a hand in the controversy by arresting two Socialist street speakers, Kate Sadler and William McNally, both of whom were released under bonds of $250 several days ago when they were arrested for contempt with a number of others who had signed a petition defying Superior Judge Humphries.

POPE PIUS X AGAIN IS IN POOR HEALTH

Suffering From Great Weak- ness and Is Kept in Bed by Physicians

ROME, Sept. 28.—The condition of Pope Pius X is giving rise to some anxiety. Although not suffering from any specific malady, the state of his health is unsatisfactory. It is believed, however, that rest and careful feeding will restore him.

Audiences have not been suspended officially but the attending physicians have agreed to discourage receptions of any kind until the pontiff has recovered his strength. In view of his present condition it is not considered probable that the pope will preside at the closing of the Congress of the Holy See in December. The pope's condition is a subject of much concern.

IRELAND NOW IN THROES OF BITTER CLASH

Ulsterites and Home Rule Advocates Stand Firm in Contentions

COUNTRY IS IN TURMOIL

Sir Edward Carson and John Redmond Leaders of Re- spective Sides

LONDON, Sept. 28.—While it is evident that the English leaders of both parties are in a conciliatory mood toward the home rule question it also is evident that Irish leaders are not. Services were held today in many of the churches throughout Ulster, representing the Church of Ireland and the Presbyterian, Methodist, Congregational, Baptist and Moravian bodies, in commemoration of the anniversary of Ulster day, when the covenant to resist home rule was signed. Sir Edward Carson and Frederick E. Smith attended the union service in Ulster hall, Belfast.

Thousands of Protestants paraded and held services in Liverpool. The impression in London today is that the conference which Premier Asquith is holding at Brookley Park, Scotland, with David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, Winston Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, and Walter Hume, president of the board of agriculture, concerning the ministerial prayer and agricultural is a disappointing, while the chief secretary for Ireland, Asquith, is absent.

Cabinet's Hands Tied.
The cabinet's hands are really tied in the matter of a compromise, as the Nationalists under John Redmond have vetoed for all the important cabinet members under the agreement that they be rigid in the passage of the bill with the Ulster unionists. A full cabinet conference can find a basis for agreement.

After the review of Sir Edward Carson's army yesterday a party of Nationalists pulled a small Union Jack from an automobile, and one of the occupants shot a box in the leg.

Redmond on Home Rule.
CAHIRCHIVAN, Ireland, Sept. 28.—"Sir Edward Carson and his friends have supplied the newspapers with amusing ally season copy which has made the sea serpent pale into insignificance," said John E. Redmond, the Irish Nationalist leader replying to an address of welcome here today.

The Ulster provisional government, he declared, would require many millions of capital could cut itself off from the imperial government and the Irish government from old rate pensions and the benefits of the insurance act; from imperial grants for education, agriculture and public works; from the operations of the housing and purchase acts, and from the post office. No merchant could draw a legal check give a legal receipt or recover a debt outside of Ulster he said.

SUITEZ WILL CALL FIFTY WITNESSES

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The fire of counsel for the board of managers on the Suitez impeachment trial will center this week in the governor's alleged bartering of political influence.

Not only will members of the legislature who are alleged to have made deals with the governor be called but those who are said to have been threatened by him if they did not vote for certain administrative measures as well as a few Democratic political leaders.

At least two more witnesses, Mr. F. F. Filer and E. R. Gray, both of New York, will be called to testify.

Further regarding the governor's alleged bartering of political influence, the evidence will be given by the witnesses.

Clerk Defies Government Agent Who Inquires About Mine Conditions

Miners Can Move Furniture

DENVER, Sept. 28.—Advocates received by Governor Ammons up to a late hour tonight indicated no disturbance of the Sunday quiet in the coal strike districts. State officials now in the southern field include the governor's secretary and personal representative, Clyde E. Smith, secretary of State Police and State Police Inspector Commissioner Burke, heads of the federal representative, L. H. Stewart.

A motor car containing Secretary Pearce, Deputy Burke and the federal agent was stopped by armed guards at the entrance to the Colorado Fuel and Iron company's camp at Pueblo today. The guards used rifles and a guard with a rifle pressed him to the ground and a crowd of miners then stepped out and a crowd of miners then stepped out and a crowd of miners then stepped out.

When conducted by the national to the company's office, Pearce notified the superintendent that any striking miner who wished to remove his household goods, either by truckman or in person must be given access to his property.

Commissioner Burke and the company's chief clerk, Charles, when Stewart, the government representative, asked how many men were at work and the clerk, according to Burke, advised the mine superintendent not to tell him. Commissioner Burke told the clerk to answer the question or take the consequences of his defiance, stating that it really was of no consequence.

Investigate Lee's Death.
According to a request received from Denver, the investigation of the death of the four Grays charged with the killing of Marshal Lee last Wednesday did to the foot bridge amounted to almost nothing. Burke says he doubts whether there were any eye witnesses competent to tell from actual observation just what occurred. The place where the shooting occurred was a cut and the nearest witness, Burke says, was three or four hundred yards distant.

Reports from Pleasant County received here tonight indicate that the strikers in that section are avoiding all troublesome situations. No violence has occurred there since the strike was declared.

Reports from Boulder County, and from Colorado Springs are that the day passed without any disturbance.

Fight Duel on Way Home From Church

WINCHESTER, Ky., Sept. 28.—Ellis Brandenburg was killed and his wife and Ben White were fatally wounded today in a revolver duel in the public road near here, which resulted from a quarrel over efforts of White and his cousin, Charles Hollin, to drive past the buggy in which Mr. and Mrs. Brandenburg were riding. Hollin was arrested.

White and Hollin were on the way home from church, as were the Brandenburgs. When White tried to pass the Brandenburg buggy his own vehicle was upset. Some words passed, and later, when White and Hollin approached Brandenburg's buggy from the rear, it is said the latter opened fire on them. They drew revolvers and returned the fire, according to Hollin.

DRUG-GRAZED NEGROES

The rest of the night with deadly aim, the bullets whizzed and a special train bearing the national anthem arrived soon afterwards. The train was carrying a large number of soldiers and as the train passed the soldiers were seen to be firing at the negroes. The train was carrying a large number of soldiers and as the train passed the soldiers were seen to be firing at the negroes.

Later the body of Teller Warren, a state, was found in a hut in the negro quarter where Warren first fell in a firing. Evidently Warren was one of the first victims, but just when he was shot is not known.

Twenty persons were injured, sixteen of them negroes. None of the negroes was dangerously hurt.

The Natchez guardsmen returned home. The negro population appeared to be as much increased as the Jones brothers as were the whites.

One Killed, Two Shot, by Negro.
MORRIS, N. C., Sept. 28.—J. M. King, constable, was shot and instantly killed, and Sheriff P. Douglas and Deputy Abbott were wounded by James Davis, a negro, who subsequently perished in the burning ruins of his home near Middleburg, this county. A posse searching for Davis, who assisted him in the fight against the officers, but escaped before his house was set on fire.

Three Injured in Fight.
MILLSVILLE, Ky., Sept. 28.—A white man and two negro men were wounded and probably fatally here today in a fight which followed efforts of several white men to stop a general melee among negroes. About 20 negro men and women were engaged in a fight with bricks when five white men on an ice wagon drove through the alley where the blacks were fighting. According to the white men, the negroes resented their efforts to stop the brick throwing and assaulted them.

Martin Thompson, white, is in the hospital with razor and knife wounds which are expected to prove fatal. Two negroes were shot and are expected to die.

ESCAPED CONVICT KILLS SELF WHEN HE IS CORNERED

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 28.—Realizing that further resistance was useless after he had exhausted his supply of ammunition in a battle with half a score of policemen who had surrounded him in a lodging house here early this morning, Homer Cleveland Wiggins, murderer of a Philadelphia policeman, and who escaped from the eastern penitentiary in that city, sent the one remaining bullet in his revolver into his brain, dying almost instantly. Policeman Scott was shot over the heart by Wiggins and may die.

Wiggins was located shortly before midnight last night by Policeman Davidson, who had gone to the lodging house and attempted to enter Wiggins' room, which he found barricaded. Other policemen were summoned and as they arrived, Wiggins began firing from his window. Policemen stationed themselves on adjoining roofs and in doorways, and tracer cars were held up while volleys after volleys of shots were fired at the convict, who returned the fire slowly and carefully.

Writes to His Mother.
After an hour's fusillade the report of a muffled shot came from Wiggins' room and then firing ceased. The policemen entered the house and broke in the convict's door. They found him lying dead. Close by his side was a note, evidently written in a cell in the penitentiary, and addressed to his mother, who lives in his city. In it he said: "Dear Mother: Do not worry about me. I am better off dead. I will have no more misery. I am going to commit suicide. They will never take me alive. Good-bye. Your loving son, Homer."

When searched at the police station, $500 was found on his body and authorities now believe he was the man who held up and stole $1,000 from the cashier at the office of the Wilmington & Philadelphia Traction company here early last Thursday morning. A false beard and wig also were found in the room.

Husband Charged With Murder of His Wife

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—A warrant, charging Everett A. Remond, son of a Macomb, Ill., farmer, with the murder of his wife, Mildred A. Remond, a Chicago dancing teacher, was issued tonight. An officer banded the warrant for "see" Mrs. Remond was shot last night near Westmoreland street.

Her body was found here on the east of the Union, Joliet & M. & N. railway. Remond's parents and kin at Macomb declare they will have no trouble in establishing a complete alibi for him.

Mrs. Remond is said to have told friends here, after her separation from her husband, that they had no quarrel, but that he was too lazy and too willing to let his parents take care of them.

IRELAND NOW IN THREE

governments, nor intimidated by the wooden muskets of Ulster."

In a second speech Mr. Redmond declared that the home rulers had been silent, law-abiding and orderly, while their opponents had been shrieking and boasting of illegality and inciting to riot and bloodshed.

Knowing that the destruction of the home rule bill would mean the breakdown of the government's other proposed reforms, Welsh disestablishment and the abolition of plural voting—and would mean also the restoration of the veto of the house of lords and the defeat of British democracy for a generation, he said, it was no wonder that Ireland maintained an attitude of self-reliance and confidence.

Answers Earl Loxburn

Speaking of Earl Loxburn's conference proposal, he said: "I wished to say no word that might injure the prospects, however vague, of the bill passing by agreement. If Earl Loxburn's suggestion has had no other effect, it must have convinced every one of the true character of the miserable Ulster opposition. It is implacable and irreconcilable and is based on no reason or argument. Its root is the old spirit of ascendancy."

The home rulers would not throw the work of 30 years into the melting pot, he continued. The only argument of the opposition was a brutal non-sensuous to the demands of the British nation.

"We will establish the freedom of Ireland without them," he declared. "And if necessary, in spite of them. Our ship is in the harbor mouth, the glass is set fair and the orders are 'Full steam ahead.'"

Carson Willing to Compromise

LONDON, Sept. 28.—John E. Redmond, Irish Nationalist leader, has made an offer to Sir Edward Carson to discuss with him every provision of the home rule act and to meet the needs and desires of Ulster. If the Ulster leader would concede the principle of a local parliament for Ireland.

Answering this offer, Sir Edward Carson has telegraphed to the Daily Express announcing his willingness to discuss any measure for the improvement of the existing government of Ireland, provided she retains her position under the imperial parliament.

Census Bureau Work Radically Curtailed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—To hasten the completion of the publishing of the results of the census, already greatly delayed, and to effect a radical reduction of expenditures, a radical curtailment of the work of the census bureau practically has been determined upon by Director Harris.

The commission which investigated unfinished statistics gave additional tabulations and analysis on population, mining and queries, now unfinished, are unnecessary, and that the material on hand would be published by December 31.

THREE CANDIDATES

ices would be available for the war council in event of a general outbreak of hostilities.

Many appear to see a connection between the recall of Gen. Felix Diaz, the recent visit to the capital of Gen. Geronimo Trevino and the invitation to the aged ex-president to return. Meanwhile the war department is silent as to its intentions.

Gen. Porfirio Diaz has been on the retired list for more than a year. General Diaz gave instructions that the salary which the army regulations accorded to him as a retired officer should be distributed yearly as a prize among the cadets in the Chapultepec military college. Porfirio Diaz recently was invited by General Mondragon, then minister of war, to assume his place on the active army roll. At that time General Diaz declined, replying that he would return if his country needed him for a foreign war. General Diaz is in his eighty-fourth year.

Washington Interested.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Official Washington gasped today about the reported recall to Mexico of General Porfirio Diaz. No tangible explanation was forthcoming here of the motive back of the summons.

One theory advanced was that Provisional President Huerta was endeavoring to demonstrate that tranquil conditions had returned. Another was that the former president of Mexico might throw his influence to secure the election of Francisco Gamba. It was thought also that the return of Porfirio Diaz would insure harmony among some factions.

Doubt is being expressed in various quarters here as to the practicability of holding an election October 29. The lack of communication on account of the sporadic uprisings and disorders tends to the belief that even if an election is held, the Liberals in the Mexican congress would succeed in blocking ratifications because no majority in the polling precincts would be in operation.

The principal problem in securing a valid election, it is recognized here, is in obtaining a general participation. Suggestions have been made that an armistice be arranged with the constitutionalists. The latter, it is known, would consent to participate in the elections if they were conducted everywhere by the civil instead of the military authorities and if guarantees for a free campaign were given.

Constitutionalists claim that in any event it will be impossible for a general election to be held on October 29, as so many parts of the republic are still in the hands of the military forces. They would require at least six months to put into operation the electoral machinery on a strictly legal basis.

CAVALIERSHIP DEFIED

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Sept. 28.—Reports that the Czech constitutional army has met defeat and is in full retreat toward the border with 1,000 federalists in pursuit.

Americans, who last week were ordered to leave the disturbed district, arrived from the front today and asserted that the local mining properties at Menor, Agualita, Roita and possibly Berana, as well as the town of Baranov, had been destroyed to prevent their capture by the federalists.

At least 3,000 refugees from the disturbed district are reported fleeing toward the Texas border.

Heavy Loss of Life

Heavy loss of life is reported in the two days' fighting which began yesterday below Aura, when constitutionalists massed for desperate attempts to check the long expected federal invasion of Coahuila.

The federalists under General Mass moved north today, passing west of Aura, and along the line of the destroyed Mexican National railway between this place and Monterrey, gradually forcing the constitutionalists back under heavy artillery fire.

At Barroteran, the constitutionalists endeavored to make a stand, but Gen. Pablo Gonzalez defied it, unless to risk his men until reinforced. All property which might have been used by the federalists, much of it owned by foreigners, was dynamited or burned.

ROMANCE OF WAR CAKES.

Why Vienna Rolls Are Shaped Like a Crescent.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

At first sight there does not appear much connection between an article of fancy confectionery and disastrous battle, and probably the present war in the Balkans will not leave much of an impression upon the shape or size of penny cakes. But it is a fact that, in many cases, the origin of various articles of food can be traced to such happenings. It is to an encounter between the Turks and Austrians, for instance, that we owe the popular Vienna rolls, with their distinctive crescent shape.

Nearly 400 years ago the Turks, under Suleiman II, besieged the city of Vienna. Unable to take the city by storm, the Turks drove a tunnel under the ramparts and would probably have effected their purpose had not the noise of their hammering attracted the attention of a baker, whose underground bake house happened to be just above the roof of the subterranean passage. The baker was thus able to give warning to his countrymen, and next day they surprised the Turks, and a fierce battle no fewer than 10,000 of the invaders were slain.

The valiant defense of Nikolaus von Salm in the end compelled the Turks to raise the siege, and for a century and a half after Vienna was free from the too pressing attentions of the Turks. It was because of their great deliverance, and to commemorate the manner of the warning, that the Viennese bakers made up their rolls of bread in the form of a crescent, the recognized emblem of the Ottoman empire. And though much has happened since, and there have been many changes in the history of the city, Viennese rolls are still made in crescent shape.

Few people would credit the harmless gingerbread with so sinister a significance as it possesses. Many are familiar with the phrase "taking the city of the crescent," which refers to the little gilt figures which used to adorn the gingerbread cakes that once were exposed for sale at country fairs.

The gift on the gingerbread typifies an old Oriental custom of human sacrifice, in which the body of the victim was first anointed with oil, then covered with gold dust and afterward rolled, and the flesh cooked and eaten. These little gilt figures made and baked and eaten, are the modern survival of this horrible practice.

The strongest story of human sacrifice is that of the Phrygian king Midas, who was first anointed with oil, then covered with gold dust and afterward rolled, and the flesh cooked and eaten. These little gilt figures made and baked and eaten, are the modern survival of this horrible practice.

SANTOS DUMONT TO FLY AGAIN

It is good news that M. Santos-Dumont is taking up the practice of aviation again. Before he tried to fly in heavier-than-air machines he was an adventurous balloonist, and in 1897 won the Deutsch prize of 100,000 francs. Later he devoted himself to aeroplanes, and then began his attempts to construct an aeroplane. His endeavors resulted in his being the first man in Europe actually to fly, when in 1906 he made a journey of 122 yards, then regarded as an amazing effort.

GOD HAS SENT MEN TO JAR CHURCH TRADITIONS

Rev. James H. Spencer Preaches at First Baptist Church on "Destruction for Reconstruction."

The Rev. James H. Spencer preached at the First Baptist church yesterday morning on "Destruction for Reconstruction." He took his text from Hebrews 12:26-27.

"Whose voice then shook the earth; but now he hath promised, saying: Yet once more will I shake the earth; not only the earth only, but also the heaven. And this word, Yet once more, signifies the removing of those things that have been shaken, as of things that have been made, that those things which are not shaken may remain."

Dr. Spencer spoke in part as follows: "This great letter to the Hebrews was written for a time of transition. It is a bridge from the old to the new, from the passing to the permanent. The ancient and splendid system of Judaism had proven unfit to give mankind a sufficient and universal religion and God had shaken and overthrown it and replaced it by the new and better faith of Christianity. The Christian converts from Judaism need not fear that all they loved and revered was taken from them in the passing of the old. In the new faith God was giving them more than they had lost in the destruction of the old."

Many Changes Taking Place.

We live in a transitional period. In the social and industrial and educational world and in the regions of scientific and philosophic and religious thought, changes, often violent and revolutionary, are taking place. Things are being shaken again and only that which is established in the reality of things, can endure. Everything that is in its nature unreal or false will be shaken and destroyed. Much that is partial and defective will be superseded by that which is complete and true.

It is not strange that the established order is shaken of its hold and does not hold at once even to the hand of God. Religion is no exception. Much that is in its nature unreal or false will be shaken and destroyed. Much that is partial and defective will be superseded by that which is complete and true.

Good Reason for His Acts.

God does not overthrow the old unless there is good reason for it. He does not tumble the established order down just to let him see the dust. ing to the State Prison to take a train for California. They gave him no time to throw up his hands, but shut him and escaped. They were not found for several weeks.

Since his incarceration in the state penitentiary, Francisco has studied architectural drawing. He took a correspondence course and today he is planning every building that is being erected at the state penitentiary. "Wardon Knapp became interested in the youth and gave him every opportunity to develop his talent through the correspondence school course. Today he is as well equipped as many professional men to do architectural drawing. Already in the drawings he has made he has saved the state many thousands of dollars."

Francisco planned and superintended the erection of the hospital building two years ago. The former greenhouse, the cow house, and in at present engaged in the construction of a new office building. Critics say his work is advanced and modern, as well as artistic, and adaptable to the needs of the state.

Second Suspect in Murks Case Freed

Louis Robinson, who was arrested last Thursday in Denver as a suspect in connection with the murder of S. E. Murks, Rock Island freight conductor, near Limon, a week ago yesterday morning, has been released by the authorities.

"Although it looked for a time as though Robinson might be the man wanted, we are now satisfied that he is not," said the chief of police in releasing the youth. "His own lies placed him in a worse position than if he had told the truth."

Norman Reed, bricklayer, who was held up by the man who killed Murks, and who partially identified Robinson at the time of his arrest, declares now that Robinson is not the man. Jack Coffin, who was arrested by the local police several days ago as a suspect, proved an alibi and was released. James Doyle, another man arrested in Colorado Springs, is serving a 20-day sentence for vagrancy. With the release of Robinson and Coffin the list of suspects being held by the authorities has been reduced to one, Doyle, and it is not thought he is the man wanted.

'ROSH HASHONAH,' JEWISH NEW YEAR BEGINS OCT. 1

Followers of Judaism to Observe Ten Days of Penitence and Prayer—
Begins Year 5674

Soundings the warning for today comes "Rosh Hashonah," the Jewish New Year's day, which begins at sunset Wednesday and closes Friday at the end of the month of Tishrei and for the orthodox at the same time last day. The event transcends the 5674 of the Hebrew calendar, time being reckoned from the creation, according to Jewish chronologists.

Because of its significance to the followers of Judaism, "Rosh Hashonah" has greater importance than the mere ushering in of the new year. The day is sometimes referred to as the Day of Memorial, because at this time the Jew is charged with the duty of seeking the Lord's grace and mercy. It is a day to have the Lord remember him in his judgments and in his love in the book of life for a good and happy year.

The New Year's day is the opening day of a period of 10 days of penitence during which all special occasions of merriment and joyous celebration are dispensed with and men seek to atone for his wrongs and wipe out his sins until the tenth day, the Day of Atonement, he spends the entire day fasting and praying in his final effort to make his peace with God and obtain his redemption. The Day of Atonement this year comes on October 11.

DO YOU BELIEVE IN BEING SAFE?

To make assurance doubly sure, we would suggest that you insist on a title insurance policy with every loan you make, or every parcel of real estate you purchase. If you invest your money in real estate, you have a right to expect the very best security obtainable. You may have this if you will stand on your rights and demand it. The man who sells real estate or who borrows money on it, will furnish a policy if you require it. Then why not have this guaranty against future dangers?

MRS. GAYNOR, WIDOW OF NEW YORK MAYOR, AND HER TWO YOUNGEST DAUGHTERS, TAKEN AT THEIR ST. JAMES HOME

TO DRUG OR NOT TO DRUG

Shall the American Public Be Regulated Even in Its Household Remedies? Two-Sided Question

From the New York Commercial.

To what extent the public should be permitted to buy and administer drugs and medicinal preparations in the treatment of its own ailments, without the advice and direction of the physician, is a question perennially brought forward for consideration by the medical and pharmaceutical professions as well as by the laity itself. This problem has recently been presented "in the light of reason" by several New York doctors and laymen who ask for a solution on the purely logical basis as to whether it is reasonable for a man or woman to attempt to cure his or her physical life without any knowledge of anatomy, physiology, pathology, diagnosis and materia medica, when the same man or woman would not attempt to repair a broken or disordered watch, lock, roof, shoe or other article of wearing apparel or household equipment without first procuring the services of an expert mechanic or tradesman.

The present laws of New York state and many other states safeguard the public against the use of a few narcotics, such as opium and cocaine and their numerous derivatives, except upon a written prescription of a physician, but they permit the purchase at retail with only trifling restrictions of a mass of poisons, such as those contained in Sennides X and B, or the state pharmacy statutes. It is not only these acknowledged poisons whose indiscriminate use by the public is to be feared. There are many other comparatively harmless "household" drugs and remedies which, employed in excess of the generally prescribed quantities or in wrongful manner, may easily result in disastrous consequences to the public.

Although it would thus seem desirable that the public should be protected against a wholesale and ignorant indiscriminate use of poisonous drugs and almost equally dangerous "household remedies," no move has yet been made by state legislatures in the direction of regulating or restricting adequately the retail sales of such commodities. On the contrary, the personal liberty provision of the constitution, has permitted stores which cater most extensively to the public to offer so-called "household" in medicine cabinets, filled with the "household remedies," which, if incorrectly employed, may work all kinds of physical troubles and therefore prove most dangerous possessions for their owners.

No other civilized nation in the world has such liberal medical and pharmaceutical laws as those of the United States. In Germany, a layman cannot buy even so relatively harmless drug commodity as barbiturate of soda except upon a written prescription of a reputable physician, and in Great Britain, France, Belgium, Italy, Spain, Portugal, Russia, Denmark, Norway and Sweden the laws on this subject are scarcely less lenient.

Just what legislative and restrictive legislation may be undertaken in the various states of this country in the future it is difficult to prognosticate at this time, but it is obvious from the almost daily records of unintentional, but none the less self-administered, poisoning that some move along these lines is needed.

Why should the public be permitted to attempt self-cures with poisonous drugs of diseases whose origin, stage and even location it is utterly ignorant, and thereby ignore the skilled physician expert, when it would not dream of trying to remedy an ailment in its household or office, heating, lighting or water supply apparatus? The public calls upon skillful tradespeople or specialists to do this work for it, but it seemingly pretends to have a most intimate knowledge of its own internal physical arrangements and ailments by prescribing for itself and taking remedies which, when manipulated or administered to the ignorant, cannot fail to prove harmful. Should the public be permitted to tinker unrestrictedly with its physical systems, while unlearned in therapeutics and materia medica, when it would not essay even jack-of-all-trades handiwork about its houses and personal possessions?
